

Student Version- 2018-19 Essay Contest Rules

This year's essay contest topic is "Making it happen at the Farmers' Market"

All rules, promotional materials, county Farm Bureau contacts, lessons and activities, and other resources related to the essay contest and book program can be found at

You can use the 2019 Book of the Year "Fresh-Picked Poetry" for ideas and perspectives you could cover. But that is not a requirement! Including poetry, as the book does, might be a fun way is acceptable but not required.

Because of the broad nature of this topic, you might consider, but are not limited to, some of these sub-topics as you write your essay:

- How farmers raise the products sold at the farmers' markets. Visit a farm, look online or go to a farmers' market and ask farmers how they grow their products.
- Focusing on the different products you can find at farmers' markets. You may concentrate on your area, during various seasons, in other parts of the state, or in other parts of the country. Do you know someone who lives in another part of the country that you could contact to ask what they buy at their local markets? You can also go online to visit other markets.
- How are farmers' markets organized and what needs to be done by the vendors, promoters and customers? Contact your local farmers' market manager and interview them using these questions.
- Visit a few farmers' markets. What else happens at or during the market? Is there entertainment? Educational events? Are they part of another community event?
- What else, besides vegetables and fruit, might you find at a farmers' market? You might expand on that.
- Interview producers who sell at farmers' markets and tell their story! How did they decide to sell that way? What type of farm do they have? What is their background?

Use your imagination and creativity to think of other items to write about!
